2013 Mourvedre " El Pelon" Paso Robles

Alcohol: 14.8%
pH: 3.88
TA: 0.53
Cases Produced: 240

On the nose:

Red & Black Briar fruit with hints of black cherry cola, bay leaf and exotic spice.

On the palate:

Lush Boysenberry and Cranberry turning to black cherry in a dark exotic dance of flavors. The mouth feel is incredible with high notes of bright acidity balanced with a rich baseline of deep fruit draped with leathery textures. The provincial herb, bay leaf notes finish with dark chocolate and a hint of oak and spice. Can only be followed by a tragic black and white movie full of intrigue, unfulfilled passion, and probably a murder.

Playlist:

The Brand New "Degausser"
The Cure "Primary", "Forest", Hanging Garden "Charlotte Sometimes"
Smashing Pumpkins "Soma" & "Drown"
Deftones, cover of the Smiths song "Please, Please, Please"

On the nose:

Smoky cherry cola and wet slate, river stone and mineral. In fact, I can see actual cherries macerated in a granite mortar & pestle. The bouquet rounds out with hints of spice and toasted oak.

On the palate:

Cherry fruit with balanced with racy acidity that keep the flavors alive and kicking into the long and graceful structure of gentle tannin intertwined with exotic spice. Long and lively flavors of Cranberry and Pomegranate trail into a subtle oak finish.

Playlist:

Here is the lineup.
Start obviously with...
Van Halen "Drop Dead Legs"... Sisters of Mercy, "This Corrosion", Smiths "How Soon is Now", Clash "Clampdown", The Jam, "Strange Town" Duran Duran "Girls on Film", INXS "one Thing", Police "Regatta de Blanc" into "Bring on the night", finish with Police

On the palate:

A labyrinth of dark exotic fruits. Deep Blueberry, bright pomegranate, bloody like Rhubarb, building to the monster structure laced with velvet tannins. Long, long, "War & Peace" long... on the palate with mouth-watering fruit and a mouthfeel that make you crave more. Bright acidity hits the top of the mouth and keep you from slipping into the heart of darkness that lies at the core of this wine. Waves of mouth-filling tannins continue endlessly all the way to the dark chocolate and creamy oak finish. Time passes as you taste this wine, or does it? Maybe what best describes Louis Cypher is a timeless sensation... maybe it's "the Devil inside."
